

At HewellsPottery.com, shipping and handling charges are based on the following:

The delivery option you choose .

The weight, size and dimensions of your items .

Your "shipping preferences" - whether you choose to ship your items together or as they become available.

For large items, we may use specialty shipping to deliver your order.

Some shippers may need to call to schedule an appointment for your deliver. Items that qualify for more than delivery to the door require an appointment; all other items will be delivered to the door.

Here are some general guidelines to consider when placing an order:

Items under 150 pounds are delivered to the door.

Items over 150 pounds are delivered by a specialty carrier and may in some cases be left at the door.

Items over 300 pounds are delivered through the door by a specialty carrier and require an appointment.
